WAR FOLLOWS WILLIAM.

In Another Fight During Which He Carves a Negro.

Poor Will Lloyd has a hard time. Everywhere he goes some cruel fellow will fight him. Fights follow him up, but common sense and self pride are always absent. Where Will is there will war be also. Saturday night after the barrooms had closed, Will had nowhere else to beat, so he went out to a store on East Washington street. He was there only a short while before he found himself crawling out of a meat box over in one corner of the store. He came out with the meat knife, one side of which served as a saw. He was told that Zeb Donnell, a low, heavy-set negro, had swatted him twice in the face and knocked him across the house into the meat box. Will started at him and before anyone could interfere had fixed Zeb up so his own mother wouldn't have known him. His face was literally hashed and he was covered all over with blood. The sight frightened Will and he left for parts unknown.

He went to the jail this morning to see his wife, who is confined for some offence, and after talking to her a short while, started to leave, but was met at the gate by Policeman Scott, who read a description of his deed on Saturday night. Will was taken back and locked up.

He had a fight about a week ago at the same store and was bound over to court on bond of $50, which he gave. He says he will give bond for his appearance for this case also.

Another False Alarm.

As the town clock struck twelve Saturday night the fire alarm was striking 42. Box 42 is at the corner of South Elm and Buchanan streets, near Clegg's hotel, and when it strikes never fails to draw a crowd. Smoke, which smelled of burning rags, was seen coming from the Fields building, which is occupied by the Glenn Manufacturing Co., manufacturers of pants. The Consumers Brewing Co. and the Southern Varnish Co., and also located in the same building. No blaze could be seen but as it is always best to do in such cases, some one turned in the alarm.

The firemen responded immediately and were soon in the building hunting fire. None could be found and the boys returned somewhat disappointed but glad, for had there been fire in the second floor where is always a large lot of cloth stored, it would have been hard to check.

Store Broken Into.

A thief broke into John Barker's store on West Market street last night by breaking out a glass in a rear window. Mr. Barker is a rectifier and wholesale liquor dealer and in addition to this runs a retail shoe and grocery store. The thief broke into the liquor room and went all over the store.

Burned paper which he used for a light was found this morning on the floor of both rooms. Blood on the floor shows that the thief cut himself on the glass when he broke in.

Mr. Barker says he misses nothing from the store, but that much might have been taken without being missed. He thinks the visitor got little spoils, however. No clue has been obtained.

Two little negroes who slept last night on the upstairs porch steps were arrested and locked up by Policemen Pierce and Scott this morning.

Charlie Marsh Dead.

Mr. James Marsh, of Asheville, spent last night in the city and went to Fayetteville today to attend the burial of his son, Charley Marsh, who died Saturday night in Washington, D. C., of typhoid fever.

The remains were carried to Fayetteville last night over the Atlantic Coast Line, accompanied by James N. Marsh, of Baltimore, a brother of the deceased who is well known in Greensboro. Charley was also well known here, a popular and estimable young man. He has for several years been holding an important position with the Southern Express Company. Fayetteville is the old home of the Marsh family, hence the remains were carried there for interment.

A Good Business Firm.

We are pleased to note the growth of business and the many improvements being made by Cunningham Brothers. These young men started in the coal and wood business here about two years ago, and since that time they have been improving their business methods and their premises until they have well nigh reached perfection. During the summer they have added materially to their coal chute which now has a capacity of three hundred tons. They have had several nice photographs taken of the chute full of coal, with five large wagons standing being loaded. Several of these photos have been nicely framed and put up in public places. It is a catchy ad.

Messrs. Cunningham Brothers believe in the use of printer's ink and always have something attractive in their space in the Telegram which it might be to your advantage to watch.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU,
HIGH POINT, N. C., Oct. 3, '98.

J. H. West, of Greensboro, has had the city billed for the state fair.

N. H. Slaughter who has recently taken charge of Jarrell's hotel again is now having the house furnished with new furniture.

R. E. Coltrane, of Randolph, was in the city Saturday with a pumpkin which weighed seventy pounds. He says he has some more at home that will beat that one. He sold this one for thirty-five cents.

"Milt" Crawford wears such a hot tie on Sundays that he keeps a young thermometer in the centre of it to tell when it it is getting too warm for him.

The revival that has been in progress at the Methodist church for the past week closed last night. There has not been many conversions during the meeting but we trust great good has been accomplished.

Walter L. Myers, of Greensboro, has accepted a position with the Snow Lumber Company.

A revenue officer assisted by the police of this place have seized over two hundred gallons of whiskey since Saturday afternoon within five miles of here. They say there is more about yet and we trust that they will succeed in getting the whiskey and the blockaders.

A dwelling, a barn and two other out houses owned by Green Kid two miles east of here were burned down last night. Mr. Kid and family were not at home and knew nothing of the fire. It is reported by the first people on the scene that all of the buildings were afire at the same time and that they were sure the buildings had been set on fire by the scent of kersene that was exceedingly strong.

The usual prayer-meeting will be held in the Baptist church Wednesday night, which was announced a few days since, would not be on account of the meeting at the M. E. Church.

One T. M. Everett, of Greensboro, was in the city Saturday and seemed somewhat displeased at the treatment he received in Thomasville for riding his wheel in town without an alarm thereon. He states that the officer received a dollar, and the mayor seventy cents, and that they never charged him anything for the town, and that he thought it a shame that the town did not get anything out of the case. Thomasville is ahead of High Point along this line. We would think that an alarm would do more harm than good in Thomasville.

Mrs. Dr. Aiken, of Philadelphia, Mrs. H. Cleveland, and Mr. and Mrs. Doran Blair, of Greensboro, spent yesterday with relatives near Archdale.

C. W. Petty, of Greensboro, spent yesterday at his home in Archdale.

J. N. Crouch went down to Randleman this morning to attend the funeral of Commodore Bryles, whose remains were taken through here yesterday from Reidsville.

A negro walked into the store of H. Harris & Bro. Saturday night and, being in a hurry, picked up a pair of pants and started out. Henry Harris asked him to stop, but he did not have time, so Henry started for him yelling "ketch 'im!" "ketch 'im" and soon was so on to his man that the latter dropped the pants. Of course Henry stopped yelling "ven 'e see dem panz drop."

Sergt. Carl Johnson, of Concord, who has been visiting relatives in the city, returned home this morning. Carl made many friends while here.

Harry Nissen, of Winston, was in the city yesterday.

Chas. Kirkman, of the Twin City Furniture Company, of Winston arrived last night to spend a few days at his parental home.

SHAMEFUL OCCURRENCES.

Disturbance Created at a Registering Place in Wilmington.

Negro insolence came near causing a riot at the registering place of the First Precinct of the First ward, 603 North Fourth street, yesterday at 11:30 a. m. The negro Willis Stevens better known as "Drake," went up to be registered. Rev. J. W. Kramer challenged Stevens' right to register, giving as his reason that Stevens had been declared insane. Carter Peamon a colored barber, interfered with some insolent language, among other things that the white men would have their faces slapped before the campaign was over. Mr. Kramer replied to this indignantly. Messrs. S. H. Terry and Thomas Herring, two well known white men, were present and seeing a minister attacked, signified their willingness to defend him.

Mr. Terry had a closed pocket-knife in his hand behind his back. Peamon wrenched this away and as a crowd of 50 or 75 negroes had gathered by this time, it looked as if there would be trouble. One of the crowd defied the white men to go around the corner. The challenge was accepted but the negroes did not follow. Order was finally restored.

THIS IS STILL WORSE.

Another and still more shameful exhibition of negro effrontery came to light yesterday. On Wednesday, between 3 and 4 P. M., two young girls, daughter of a white gentleman who is known to many citizens, were on their way home from the school of the Sisters of Mercy. On Sixth street, near Red Cross, they were subjected to an insult so gross and so outrageously indecent that it cannot be described.

The perpetrators of the disgusting act were three colored boys. The father of the girls told the Star of this occurrence and that every word is true is warranted by his unquestionable good character and veracity. He says further that on account of just such occurrences, only never before half so bad, but he had to keep his children from school nearly the whole of last year.—Morning Star.

Masked Miners.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Ind., Oct. 3.—Masked miners, it is believed, have gone to the mines southeast of the city this morning, where more negroes are living, with the intention of driving them out for maltreating C. Howland, a white boss. Shots were heard in that direction early this morning. The negroes are armed and well protected.

New York, Oct. 3—Ex-president Harrison is in the city. He declined to express an opinion with reference to the events of the last few months. He says he will not participate in the republican campaign in New York on account of his engagements in the Venezuelan boundary case.

STREET CARS AND BONDS.

We lay it down as a proposition in which we believe the live business men of the city will sustain us, that the city cannot afford to allow the present opportunity to secure street cars for the city to pass. It is of vital importance. We believe it would be to the best interest of Greensboro to give the lighting contract to a firm that will put in the line and operate street cars in connection therewith. This can be done at a less cost per light than we are now paying to say nothing of the increased taxes that would shortly be derived from the improvement of now almost valueless property.

Then submit the proposition to issue bonds for municipal owners of waterworks and completing sewerage. There is no question about the absolute necessity for these things, and the surest means of securing them should be adopted, having, of course, a due regard for the city's interest in the cost of the same.

If the city has been benefitted by having lights under the present contract would not the benefit be greater by having lights at a cheaper rate with a street car line thrown in?

An important matter in connection with the right to vote is to see that your name is properly enrolled on the registration books of the precinct in which you live now—not where you lived two years ago. People who live in cities are liable to overlook this. If you have moved since the last election get a transfer at once and see that you are properly registered in your new precinct. Don't neglect it. There are only four more days in which to do this and you cannot afford to neglect it. Attend to it next Saturday.

Major-General Coppinger has made a report in which he says the regular troops lived well and the complaint from the volunteer army was due to the "ignorance of the inexperienced officers who did not know how to procure or care for the rations, and the ignorance of cooks who did not know how to cook them." The General says the "quality of food was ample and the quality good." Grant that this is all true wasn't somebody to blame for not having men in charge who were competent to handle the food and feed the men?

The practice of sweeping old paper and other rubbish from stores into the streets is one that in the interest of decency and the goods looks of things should be stopped. We believe there is an ordinance in Greensboro against it, and it may be that it has been verlooked. We feel that it is onlys necessary to call attention to it. It is said the gendarmes of Paris don't even allow people to throw an empty envelope off a letter on the streets. While we boast of having the best town in the state, let's also strive to make it the cleanest. Really, it can't be the best unless it is the cleanest.

A Baltimore contemporary has been informed by a prominent hairdresser that hair is to be worn very high and dressed very elaborately this winter in knots, loops, clusters and puffs—whatever that may all mean. That may all be very nice, but we believe it is rather high for North Carolina. In the Tarheel state people will wear their hair on their heads—those who are not bald—the coming winter, dressed in folds, layers and kinks.

If at any time there appears in these columns an item of sufficient merit or interest to be copied, we respectfully ask our brethren to give The Telegram credit for the same. Within the past week editorial notes have been copied bodily without credit, and still others have been credited to other papers. This is an inexcusable error.

Judge Van Wyck has resigned his seat on the bench and accepted the democratic nomination for Governor of New York. Meantime, "Teddy, the Tax-dodger," is arranging to get himself straight on the tax books. When this is accomplished the race will begin in earnest.

There is irony and there is irony but for the genuine article the term "Santiago health bulletin" takes the cake.

How to Prevent Croup.

We have two children who are subject to attacks of croup. Whenever an attack is coming on my wife gives them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and it always prevents an attack. It is a household necessity in this county and no matter what else we run out of, it would not do to be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. More of it is sold here than of all other cough medicines combined.—J. M. Nickle, of Nickle Bros., merchants, Nickleville, Pa. For sale by C. E. Holton.

SHOT IN THE ARM.

A Stubborn Convict Who Refused to Obey Orders.

Foreman Rufus Stanley, of the convict camp now stationed at Freeman's mill about twelve miles south of the city, shot Joe Quicker a negro convict who tried to escape Saturday night. Joe and Ralph Francell both trustees left camp together on Saturday night riding mules. Mr. Stanley was then at Jamestown, and one of the guards, suspecting that the trustees as they went off riding mules would try to escape, went to Jamestown and reported to Mr. Stanley, and together they came here. They found Quicker and Trancell, and rather than march back twelve miles to their camp at Freeman's Mill Mr. Stanley ordered them to proceed to the camp near the water works. Quicker tried to avoid this saying they were trusties and could go back to his own camp, and proceeded. Mr. Stanley shot at him with a 22-caliber pistol, the shot taking effect in the right arm above the elbow. The other negro escaped. It is thought he will go back to camp but at last accounts he had not returned.

Quicker was given medical attention and placed in jail here until he recovers.

THE REAL CONDITION.

Incidents of Life as it is in Wilmington.

It is thought that the negro bearing is less aggressive and violent now than it was two or three weeks ago. This may be true as to the males. There is an understanding now that they must put brakes on until after the election, as demonstrations of lawlessness might injure the radical cause. We give two recent illustrative instances, both unqualifiedly true, of recent date:

A few days ago two young ladies met two negro women on a rather narrow side-walk. One of the negroes rather jostled one of the whites, perhaps sufficiently to shove her aside. The whites passed on, taking no notice of the affront. A few feet behind the negroes came an old negro woman She stopped and said to the young lady: "Honey, did dey shove you off de walk!" The reply was yes. She then said: "I'm glad a dat and praise dare courage."

A venerable lady of refinement, visiting Wilmington, whose hair is whitened by advancing years, was on one of our main thoroughfares lately and standing awaiting the coming of another lady. Two negro wenches were passing, when one turned to the lady as she passed and coarsely, brutally asked: "What are you standing here for, you old white goat?"

The white people are expected to bear these things. It is the last feather that breaks the camel's back. This swaggering insolence and readiness to insult white ladies on the part of the blacks have gone quite far enough. It will be better for all that it stops. A word to the wise is sufficient.—Wilmington Messenger.

SAM JONES ON LEE.

The Georgia Evangelist Writes of The Royal Irishman.

From Sam Jones' letter in the Saturday Atlanta Journal we take the following reference to Rev. J. W. Lee, the Irish evangelist, who is bombarding the saloons and other forms of vice in the Georgia towns:

Another history-making project down in that section is the voting out of saloons. Americus and Cuthbert have lately voted them out. Washington has bid them good-bye. Rev. J. W. Lee, of Greesboro, N. C., was a mighty force in Sumter and Randolph counties. He is now at Thomasville. He goes from there to Bainbridge, from Bainbridge to Macon, etc. He is Jersey lightning in his warfare on saloons and liquor. He is a brave, true, royal Irishman—fervid, eloquent and a true Christian. Of course they have circulated all sorts of lies on him, but I have known this good man for eight years. He is as true as steel and as brave as a lion. They are the same kind of lies pretty much they told on me until their old lies became chestnuts, and then the worms ate them up. The devil is not dead, gentlemen, nor has he been sick a-bed in forty years to my certain knowledge, and as the devil lives and keeps well and a man fights whiskey and sin in earnest, the devil and his gang are going to talk back. I am a Lee man first, last and always.

Three Doctors in Consultation.

From Benjamin Franklin.

"When you are sick, what you like best is to be chosen for a medicine in the first place: what experience tells you is best, to be chosen in the second place: what reason (i. e. Theory) says is best is to be chosen in the last place. But if you can get Dr. Inclination, Dr. Experience and Dr. Reason to hold a consultation together, they will give you the best advice that can be taken."

When you have a bad cold Dr. Inclination would recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy because it is pleasant and safe to take. Dr. Experience would recommend it because it never fails to effect a speedy and permanent cure. Dr. Reason would recommend it because it is prepared on scientific principles, and acts on nature's plan in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions and restoring the system to a natural and healthy condition. "SEND ME 250 FEET OF BOOKS."

How a Cabinet Officer Once Filled His Library Shelves.

They tell a story, says the New York Evening Sun, of a prominent man who within recent times became a member of a President's Cabinet. In any event, the story is a true one, and that is the main thing. This Cabinet man hadn't been in Washington long, hardly long enough to get used to the hotel life there, and that doesn't take long, although it involves much. He was a man of family; he had means; he wanted a situable house, chiefly in order that he might dwell therein, and incidentally for the purposes of entertainment, for there are some Cabinet members who have the means and the family to entertain, and he was one of them. Finally, after considerable search, he got just the house he wanted, fine and large, and in a most convenient lecation with respect to the White House and the department of which he was chief. The house was completely furnished except in one respect. Its owner, who had just been summoned to represent this government at a diplomatic post, had chosen to take his books with him. The library shelves were vacant. Hardly a government report or a census record was left to accentuate the literary isolatian of that once cozy room. The Cabinet man was just a little vexed—only for a moment, however. He knew he could buy two or three libraries at the Washington stores if he wanted them and thus fill up the gap. But his alert mind solved the problem in a hurry, and in a short time all the shelves were filled in response to this telegram, which he sent to an agent at his home in—well, it is not so far west as Manila, or even so far distant as Ponce:

"Send me by freight 250 running feet of books for library."

Then he went to the Cabinet meeting and told the President and his colleagues how he had solved the problem. And he has never understood to this day why the grave president and his serious Cabinet smiled when he told how he had ordered a library by the yard.

Truth wears well. People have learned that DeWitt's Little Early Risers are reliable little pills for regulating the bowels, curing constipation and sick headache. They don't gripe. Howard Gardner.

SKY-HIGH THEATRE HATS.

The Latest Styles Built in Tiers With Steps.

New York, Oct 1.—The theatre hat for the coming season will be a triumph of millinery architecture. Hats exhibited the past week in prominent millinery establishments are regular full performance, as tall as a curtain raiser, a prologue and a five-act play combined.

Some of these hats have a double brim, being a hat within a hat, or, rather, a hat on top of a hat. The superstructure is of flowers, feathers and ribbons, piled on top of each other in profusion like a tall office building with a weather bureau over all. The theatrical managers look on the milliner's action as a challenge, and the question of high hats or a sight of the stage will probably be fought to a finish within a few weeks.

You invite disappointment when you experiment. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are pleasant, easy, thorough little pills. They cure constipation and sick headache just as sure as you take them. Howard Gardner.

And Yet He Died.

A Norwegian named Svenson, a "hatter," found dead in his hut near Wadderburn, Victoria, was, said inquest testimony, in the habit of taking medicine of his own invention composed of Stockholm tar mixed with Friar's balsam and water. The Australian hatter is very often "a whale" for medicines, but Svenson has the record. He drank, in addition to the above, fifteen gallons of "microbe-killer" in a few weeks.—Sydney, Australia, Bulletin.

Special Notice.

Proposals will be received by the city of Greensboro, N. C., up to November 15, 1898, for lighting the streets of said city with electricity for a period of three or more years from January 1, 1899, said proposals to be based on seventy or more arc lights of 1,200 candle power. City reserves right to reject any or all bids. Bids or inquiries should be addressed to B. H. Merrimon, chairman light committee, Greensboro, N. C.

In connection with the above the Industrial and Immigration Association of Greensboro urges investors to investigate Greensboro as a place for building an electric street railway and power plant. Numerous small manufacturing concerns want power of this kind. Incandescent lights are wanted. City has a population of over 10,000 and is growing rapidly. Unusual opportunity for those who mean business; no fakirs wanted. Information will be furnished by the I. & I Association.

Millions Givn Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine, and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs are surely cured by it. Call on C. E. Holton, druggist, and get a trial bottle free. Regular size 50 and $1. Every bottle guaranteed or price refunded.
